President's Message

Well it appears time for another issue of the Virginia Numismatist, even though it seems that time is running faster than ever. The VNA Board has been working on matters related to the next convention held in Fredericksburg at the end of September. We will try to set up suites of rooms at several hotels close to the convention hall and are signing up dealers for the show. I attended many shows in the last few weeks and see the tenor of most of the shows has changed. Coins in open trays or boxes on dealer tables are being pilfered. This occurred at the Virginia Beach show and at the Richmond show. We need to be more wary to stop this. At the Virginia Beach show a large size note was taken from the educational exhibit, a series 1899, $5 silver certificate #N3975743star "Indian chief" note. At the Richmond show a silver Shekel of Tyre was picked up.

It is always sad to report the passing of VNA members and dealers. I need to let all know that we recently lost coin dealers Charles Garber, David Gotkin, and Gary Stone, also VNA member William C. Miller. In physical rehab is Billy Hoovler. We hope he will be back at work on exhibits as soon as possible, and so does "Surely" Gouldmann.

Colonel Steven Ellsworth, past President of the ANA has accepted the honor of being our guest speaker at the convention in September, Thanks Steve!

We will hold elections again in September, before the Convention. Nominations are wanted for most Board members and officers up for re-elections. David Ellison, the VNA Secretary, has decided to not run for re-election, so we need someone to step forward to take over this important position. Contact Dave Ellison to see what is needed for the Office of Secretary. Also, The Virginia Numismatist is looking for ads for the "Money Store" which are free for members, so please take advantage of this free service.

I want to thank all for the help we are getting for the convention and for the VNA itself and hope to see many of you at the shows and club meetings.

Thanks and stay well,

Parry Bragg - VNA President

New Coin Videos available - Newman Numismatic Portal (NNP) Project Coordinator Len Augsburger released twenty-four numismatic talks given at the 2022 Newman Numismatic Portal (NNP) Symposium, held via Zoom on April 8 – 10 that are now available for free. The top three attended sessions were “A Behind the Scenes Look at the Hansen Collection and a Q&A with John Brush,” “Secrets You Should Know about the Rare Coin and Bullion Business” presented by Michael Garofalo, and “Understanding the New Complexities of the Numismatic Auction Market,” by Timothy Welo. Some of my favorites were “Coinage of the Crusades,” by Mike Markowitz, “Double Dimes and the Amazing Find at the Carson City Mint,” by John Frost, “U.S. Civil War Numismatics,” by Wayne Homren, and “Samurai Silver” by co-host Lianna Spurrier. New Authors and Articles - We welcome new author Lucas Schaefer published in this edition, and extend to all, the call for original numismatic articles with accompanying coin photos for publication in The Virginia Numismatist. Tell us about what coins, currency, or tokens you collect, study, inherit, find, or buy/sell, and share stories about your hobby triumphs, achievements, pitfalls, and hard-won wisdom with others. Stories with ties to coin collecting in Virginia given preference.

Email WARNING:

VNA President Parry Bragg's email was hacked long ago and imposters are still sending bogus emails and text messages asking for help from VNA members to buy and send them gift cards. Please do not respond to any false electronic communications from Parry, who much prefers talking in person by telephone.

Spelling Error on Civil War Token

Lucas Schaefer

I recently came across a humorous spelling error on an 1863 Flag of Our Union / Dix civil war patriotic token of type Fuld 209/414. The reverse reads IF ANYBODY ATTEMPTS TO TEAR IT DOWN SHOOT HIM ON THE SPOOT. ‘Spoot’ is an obvious misspelling of the word ‘spot.’ This Flag of our Union obverse is muled with one of nine similar DIX reverse varieties recognized by the Fuld classification system that reads: ‘SPOOT’ and not ‘SPOT.’ This spelling error was accidental, not intentional. It is fun to speculate on how this error might have come to be. Was the spelling error in the original concept of the token or could it possibly have come about when preparing the dies. To truly understand how this token came to be we first must look at where it came from. Civil War tokens were not produced by the United States Mint, but by a private company, as a method of making token currency for payment during the war. In its day, this token would have been redeemable in the North for one cent. This token was produced by the Scovill Manufacturing Company of Waterbury, Connecticut which began in 1802 as a button manufacturing company under the name ‘Abel Porter & Co.’ By the 1850’s, the Scovill Manufacturing Company made brass lamps, artillery munitions, uniform buttons and even coin blanks for the United States Mint. Private companies had to make their own tokens to continue to do business because government-issued coins failed to circulate due to hoarding during the civil war. The Scovill Manufacturing Company obviously did not have the same standards as the United States Mint, letting an obvious misspelling out into circulation during the coin shortage. The reverse design came from a telegram sent by Secretary of the Treasury, James Dix. The last sentence of the telegram read: "If anyone attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot." The telegram was originally intended to be relayed to a Union armed vessel in danger of seizure, however, it was intercepted by Louisiana's secessionist authorities. The quote became famous almost overnight with headlines in the north reading "shoot him down on the spot". This probably explains the obverse, which depicts a liberty-capped American flag encircled by: THE FLAG OF OUR UNION. These civil war tokens are commonly referred to as 'DIX' civil war tokens and while most display the correct spelling of 'spot' if you happen to come across a misspelled one, do not think it is a cheap counterfeit. The error version of the DIX token is favorable to collectors for its comedic spelling error. Even though assigned a common rarity rating of 'R2' (meaning there are roughly 2000-5000 examples extant), it may be difficult to come by. Higher grade examples can be found for around $60-$100. I recommend everyone add an example of this error token to your collection. It offers a lot of history and is a good conversation starter.

Mid-Century Modern 20th Century Type Set

Thomas Kays

Consider filling out a United States 20th Century Type Set. Only one of each type of coin is needed, and not long date runs of similar coins. Type sets may include only the most affordable, common date coins, without any expensive key dates. Type set collectors typically seek a standard minimum grade with some collectors seeking only uncirculated examples, or even proofs. An advanced set might include extra, minor variations. What constitutes a “complete set” is left to the collector to decide.

For instance, Capital Plastics made a custom, 20th Century US Proof Type Set holder with just 18-coin slots, omitting Standing Liberty Quarter proofs (none made), nor Peace Dollar Proofs (prohibitively expensive). Most holders exclude gold coins. For circulated coins, some popular commercial holders may have just 23-coin slots, or 29-slots, even up to 38-slots, with both obverse and reverse of the coins visible, ready to serve as hanging wall art. I know of no giant-sized holders for Third-Party Graded “slabbed” coins, although I imagine a wall-sized, custom wall hanging for slabbed coins could be fabricated.

Looking back from the 21st Century, a “complete” 20th Century US Type Set might include slots for the 2000 Sacagawea Dollar and ten different America the Beautiful, 1999 and 2000 quarters, issued at the end of the last century for the first ten states admitted to the union. Earlier 20th Century Type Set holders would lack these slots. Holders may be roughly dated by what coins are excluded. For instance, holders made before 1979 would lack a slot for the Susan B. Anthony dollar, before 1976 would lack the bicentennial designs, and before 1971 would lack the Eisenhower Dollar.

One of the earliest ‘do-it-yourself’ 20th Century US Type Set holders is this vintage Plexiglass, ‘Mid-Century Modern’ U.S. Type Set with 24 slots to hold both type I and type II Standing Liberty Quarters, plus the new “Roosevelt Copper with Overlay” Dime (1965), “Washington Copper with Overlay” Quarter (1965) and “Kennedy Copper with Overlay” Half Dollar (1964). The set builder labeled a slot for the “clad” half dollar of 1964, could not find an example, and filled it with a 90% silver 1964-D Half Dollar instead.

24-Slot, Plexiglass, 20th Century Type Set (assembled circa 1965)

Reverses of these type set coins are seen when the back of the holder is held upside-down (given a “coin turn”). The coating on the reverse of the 1943 steel cent has disintegrated indicating this type set has been together, undisturbed in this frame for a very long time. It seems likely this set was assembled from coins found in circulation fifty-seven years ago as silver began to be pulled out from circulation. Thanks to Molly and Chris Landgraf for sharing images of this great type set.

Information Needed – Lucas VA-Car Bus Lines Token

David E. Schenkman

The token illustrated above is listed in The Atwood-Coffee Catalogue of United States and Canadian Transportation Tokens and attributed to Elizabeth City, North Carolina. It is assigned catalog number 280-D, and three other denominations -- $3.00, $3.90, and $4.00 – are listed as 280 A, B, and C respectively.

There are several unanswered questions surrounding the tokens. For one thing, information concerning J. P. Lucas, whose name appears on the tokens, is virtually nonexistent. As for the tokens, a couple of sets were acquired in the 1940s from a rubber stamp store in Norfolk that had ordered them from a die sinker for Lucas. No doubt this was the source of the Elizabeth City attribution.

According to the Atwood-Coffee catalog, the line “operated between Suffolk, VA, and Elizabeth City, NC, in the early 1930s.” This is contradicted by an article in the August 2, 1930 issue of the Elizabeth City News and Observer newspaper which informed readers that the Lucas Bus Line had just been purchased by the Virginia Beach Bus Lines.

I would like to hear from any reader owning one of these tokens, or having information concerning Lucas or the bus lines. I can be contacted by mail at PO Box 2866, La Plata, MD 20646, or email at dschenkman@verizon.net

Conducting business in Colonial America using “ready money” was a “miserly” requiring scales, weights, exchange tables, advanced mathematics using fractions, and much patience to figure debt in pounds / shillings / pence per local money of account, but payment under current exchange rates for foreign coins, wrought from random assortments of odd denominations, cut pieces, and crude cobs of genuine, suspect, and counterfeit composition.
